The independent certified public accountant's responsibility for the financial statements required to be filed with the Commission is confined to the expression of his opinion, or lack thereof, on such statements which he has examined.

- 4.5 The Commission shall not be liable for any liability or loss that may arise from the selection of said accredited external auditor and/or auditing firm to be engaged by a corporation for regular audit.

- i. bookkeeping or other services related to the accounting records or financial statements of the audit client;
- ii. financial information systems design and implementation;
- iii. appraisal or valuation services, fairness opinions, or contribution-in-kind reports;
- iv. actuarial services;
- v. internal audit outsourcing services;
- vi. management functions or human resources;
- vii. broker or dealer, investment adviser, or investment banking services;
- viii. legal services and expert services unrelated to the audit; and
- ix. any other services that the Commission may declare as impermissible.

8.2 The firm and/or the external auditor shall comply with the following:

- i. Terms of its engagement letter and its undertakings, in accordance with the submitted documents pursuant to Section 7 of this Circular;
- ii. Generally accepted auditing standards in the Philippines;
- iii. Code of Professional Ethics which include independence rules;
- iv. Applicable provisions of SRC Rule 68 and 68.1, and other relevant pronouncements of the Commission; and
- v. Other pertinent laws, rules and regulations.

8.3 The written procedure for quality assurance and monitoring of professional ethics and independence from clients which is submitted with the application for accreditation shall be complied with. Any change or amendment thereto shall be reported to the Commission not less than ten (10) days prior to its effectivity. If the Commission does not comment or object to the said changes within ninety (90) days from date of submission, the same shall be deemed duly noted and shall form part of the records of such accredited firm on file with the Commission.

- 8.4 The Commission may exercise visitorial power over the accredited firms and external auditors, as it deems necessary.
- 8.5. The external auditor shall adopt and implement the following communication process as part of the operational requirements:

- i. Critical Accounting Policies and Practices

The external auditor shall communicate to the audit committee or its equivalent or those charged with governance, all critical accounting policies and practices. Critical accounting policies are those that are both most important to the portrayal of the company's financial condition and performance, and require management's most difficult, subjective or complex judgments, often as a result of the need to make estimates about the effect of matters that are inherently uncertain. Prior to finalizing and filing annual reports, audit committees should review the selection, application and disclosure of critical accounting policies. Consistent with auditing standards, audit committees shall be apprised of the evaluative criteria used by management in their selection of the accounting principles and methods. Proactive discussions between the audit committee and the company's senior management and auditor about critical accounting policies are deemed necessary.

- ii. Alternative Accounting Treatments

- a) External auditors shall provide audit committees with information on material accounting alternatives. This will minimize the risk that audit committee members will be distracted from material accounting policy matters by the numerous discussions between the auditors and management on the application of accounting principles to relatively small transaction or events. The external auditor shall communicate, either orally or in writing, to the audit committee all alternative treatments within generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) for policies and practices related to material items that have been discussed with management, including the ramifications of the use of such alternative treatments and disclosures and the treatment preferred by the accounting firm. This rule is intended to cover recognition, measurement, and disclosure considerations related to the accounting for specific transactions as well as general accounting policies.
    - b) Communications regarding specific transactions shall identify, at a minimum, the underlying facts, financial statement accounts impacted, and applicability of existing corporate accounting policies to the transaction. In addition, if the accounting treatment proposed does not comply with existing corporate accounting policies, or if an existing corporate accounting policy is not applicable, then an explanation of why the existing policy was not appropriate or applicable and the basis for the selection of the alternative policy should be discussed. Regardless of whether the accounting policy selected preexists or is new, the entire range of alternatives available under GAAP that were discussed by management and the auditor shall be communicated along with the reasons for not selecting those alternatives. If the accounting treatment selected is not, in the auditor's view, the preferred method, the reasons why the auditor's preferred method was not selected by management and the possible impact of such method on the auditor's report.

- c) Communications regarding general accounting policies shall focus on the initial selection of and changes in significant accounting policies, as required by generally accepted auditing standards (GAAS), and should include the impact of management's judgments and accounting estimates, as well as the auditor's judgments about the quality of the entity's accounting principles. The discussion of general accounting policies should include the range of alternatives available under GAAP that were discussed by management and the auditor along with the reasons for selecting the chosen policy. If an existing accounting policy is being modified, then the reasons for the change also should be communicated. If the accounting policy selected is not the auditor's preferred policy, then we expect the discussions to include the reasons why the auditor considered one policy to be preferred but that policy was not selected by management.
- d) The separate discussion of critical accounting policies and practices is not considered a substitute for communications regarding general accounting policies, since the discussion about critical accounting policies and practices might not encompass any new or changed general accounting policies and practices. Likewise, this discussion of general accounting policies and practices is not intended to dilute the communications related to critical accounting policies and practices, since the issues affecting critical accounting policies and practices, such as sensitivities of assumptions and others, may be tailored specifically to events in the current year, and the selection of general accounting policies and practices should consider a broad range of transactions over time.

iii. Other Material Written Communications

Written communications between auditors and management shall range from formal documents, such as engagement letters, to informal correspondence, such as administrative items, which shall include but not limited to, the following:

- Reports on observations and recommendations on internal controls;
- Schedule of unadjusted audit differences, and a listing of adjustments and reclassifications not recorded, if any;
- Engagement letter; and
- Independence letter.

The management of the registrant shall furnish the audit committee with a copy of the management representation letter addressed to the external auditor.

iv. Timing of Communications

The communications between the auditor and the audit committee shall occur prior to the filing of the audit report with the Commission pursuant to applicable securities laws. As a result, these discussions will occur, at a minimum, during the annual audit, but could occur as frequently as quarterly or more often on a real-time basis.

SEC. 9. Reportorial Requirements

- 9.1 For companies covered by this Circular, each shall disclose to the Commission in a current report (SEC Form 17-C) in case of companies under Group A, or in a disclosure letter for companies under Groups B to C, within five (5) days from receipt of the findings from its external auditors, the matters indicated under Section 9.3 hereof which have been discovered by the latter during the conduct of audit for the company's recently completed fiscal year, and determined in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. For companies under Group D, said disclosure shall be submitted to the concerned regulatory agency, copy furnished the Commission's Office of the General Accountant.

  - iii. Any finding to the effect that the consolidated assets of the company, on a going concern basis, are no longer adequate to cover the total claims of creditors;
  - iv. Material internal control weaknesses which may lead to financial reporting problems.
- 9.4 The external auditor shall submit its findings to the client-company's management/audit committee. The adverse findings in 9.3 (i-iii) shall be discussed by the external auditor with said body in order to preserve the concerns of the supervisory authority and external auditors regarding the confidentiality of the information.

- 9.5 The external auditor shall document the management's explanation and/or corrective action taken regarding his adverse findings. The same shall be included in the report mentioned under Section 9.2.
- 9.6 The contract between the company and the external auditor shall contain a provision that the disclosure of information by the external auditor to the Commission shall not be a ground for civil, criminal or disciplinary proceedings against the auditor.

1. No cash flow statement;
  2. No balance sheet;
  3. No Income Statement (unless the company is non-operational);
  4. No statement of changes in equity (unless the only change in the equity is the net income or loss for the period);

  6. Major accounting policy is non-GAAP (i.e. cash accounting).
- b. For Groups A application, it may be favorably considered only if minor disclosure incompleteness (one to two items) are found in AFS of the applicant's clients and sufficient explanation are provided by the applicant. The level of deficiencies acceptable for Group B accreditation shall also be minor disclosure deficiencies but such may be up to five items.
- c. For Groups C and D application, common deficiencies such as the following are considered not material to affect the quality of the submitted AFS and shall not be a ground for denial:

  3. The required comparative two-year figures are not presented;
  4. One or two accounting policies are not disclosed.

The applicant in this case should, however, submit a written explanation on each of the finding, and an undertaking to improve his audit work.

PRO-FORMA AUDIT ENGAGEMENT LETTER

To the Board of Directors
Company Name
Address

You have requested that we audit the balance sheet of (name of company) as of (fiscal year end) and the related statements of income, cash flows and changes in stockholders' equity for the year then ending. We are pleased to confirm our acceptance and our understanding of this engagement by means of this letter. Our Audit will be made with the objective of our expressing an opinion on the financial statements.

We will conduct our audit in accordance with Philippine Standards on Auditing. Those Standards require that we plan and perform the audit and to obtain reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free of material misstatements. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statements presentation.

Because of the test nature and other inherent limitations of an audit, together with the inherent limitations of any accounting internal control system, there is an unavoidable risk that even some material misstatements may remain undiscovered.

In addition to our report on the financial statements, we expect to provide you with a separate letter concerning any material weaknesses in accounting and internal control systems which come to our knowledge.

We remind you that the responsibility for the preparation of financial statements including adequate disclosure is that of the management of the company. This includes the maintenance of adequate accounting records and internal controls, the selection and application of accounting policies, and the safeguarding of assets of the company. As part of our audit process, we will request from management written confirmation concerning representations made to us in connection with the audit.

However, as part of our responsibility as an accredited external auditor of the Securities and Exchange Commission, we shall report to the Commission any of the following cases which may have been discovered based on generally accepted auditing standards, if the company fails to disclose the same to the Commission:

1. Any material findings involving fraud or error which will reduce the consolidated total assets of the company by five percent (5%);
2. Losses or potential losses the aggregate of which amounts to at least ten percent (10%) of the consolidated total assets of the company;
3. Any findings to the effect that the consolidated assets of the company, on a going concern basis are no longer adequate to cover the total claims of creditors.

We look forward to full cooperation with your staff and we trust that they will make available to us whatever records, documentation and other information are requested in connection with our audit. Our fees, which will be billed as work progresses, are based on the time required by the individuals assigned to the engagement plus out-of-pocket expenses. Individual hourly rates vary according to the degree of responsibility involved and the experience and skill required.

This letter will be effective for _____ years unless it is terminated, amended or superseded.

Please sign and return the attached copy of this letter to indicate that it is in accordance with your understanding of the arrangements for our audit of your financial statements.
